HAVE FINISHED THEIR TRAINING

CORBETT AND MCCOY BOTH READY FOR THE FAY.

Each Man Says He Is Confident of Putting the Other Into Dreamland in Short Order.

New York, Aug. 29.—Corbett and McCoy have practically completed training for their fight tomorrow night in the ring of the Twentieth Century club in Madison square garden.

Corbett has done his work at Bath beach and has trained more carefully for this fight than he did for his battle with Fitzsimmons in Carson City, or for his bout with Jeffries at Coney island.

"I'm so confident of winning from McCoy," Corbett has said, "that I'm ready to go to bed tonight with the thought of the fight on my mind."

McCoy has said that he is confident of winning from Corbett and believes that he will win within ten rounds. He will start for New York today (Wednesday).

"It will be the most surprised man in the business if I don't win," the "Kid" said. "I think I will win, because, if I do, I will be a champion. I am a champion, and I can beat him harder than he. So that if I can win, and if I can win, it will be a great day for me, and it will be a great day for me."

ALL FISTIANA TURNS OUT IN VETERAN'S HONOR.

Handsome Man Realized, Which Will Be Held In Trust For The Ex-Champion.

New York, Aug. 29.—John L. Sullivan was given a rousing benefit at the Twentieth Century club in Madison square garden tonight. The sum realized from the sale of tickets and subscriptions will be larger than expected. It will be held in trust by a committee, who will invest the money for the interest of Sullivan.

Bob Fitzsimmons met with an enthusiastic reception when he took a seat in a box at the ringside. Jeffries came in a little later, but there was only a mild demonstration for him. He made his way to the dressing room.

After a number of bouts between local boxers, George Dixon was introduced, and said he was sorry he could not fight, as he was disabled by a recent injury to his arm.

Peter Maher and Peter Burns sparred three lively rounds. Maher was the victor, and he was awarded a prize of $50.

A telegram from Terry McGovern, enclosing $50, was read.

Gus Kuhl and Charley Goff sparred three rounds cleverly, and the big Olean came in for a generous share of applause.

Tom Sharkey, who was introduced as "challenger of the world," was also the recipient of an ovation. He made his appearance for three-round exhibition with George Crier of New York.

Bob Fitzsimmons brought down the house when he got into the ring to sparring with Jeff Thorne of England. Bob was greeted with tumultuous cheers, which were repeated over and over.

Bob wore the pink knickerbockers and had on small American flags which he had on when he whipped Ruhl and Jeff. There were cries for a speech, but Bob simply shook his head and began sparring.

For two rounds they went at a nice pace, but in the third round they began to hang on. The referee stepped in and they were separated. They knocked each other down frequently to the intense amusement of the spectators, and at the close of the fight both fell to the floor. Referee White counted both out, and then they got up and shook hands.

John L. Sullivan and J. J. Jeffries came on for the wind up. Sullivan thanked everybody for the good time they had had, and Jeffries did not respond when called on to say a few words, but through the announcer said he would at all times be ready to defend his title of champion.
